

I strongly oppose allowing the use of cellular phones aboard airplanes. The tight, confined quarters are already making people tense and unhappy--the last thing we need is to add loud conversations that keep passengers awake, make them annoyed and angry.